habitat, as well as to observe other typical fuegian wildlife, while enjoying an unforgettable experience exploring Ushuaia's nature and marine life.

The Beagle Channel Maritime Excursion starts at Ushuaia's tourist port. There you will embark on a catamaran to sail across Ushuaia Bay. As the boat moves away from the coast, enjoy amazing views of the city's landmarks and the mountains that surround the island, such as Montes Olivia, Cinco Hermanos, los Montes Escarpados, as well as estancias Figue and Túnel and the Encajondado River. A few minutes later, heading southwest, this guided maritime tour will turn into the Beagle Channel, until it reaches Isla de los Cormoranes (Island of Cormorants) – home to the marine bird typical to this zone. Observe them hunting fish by diving into the water, before continuing your navigation to Isla de Lobos. Here you will get so see these amazing animals up close from a number of angles, and learn more about the habits of this colony of sea lions.

Finally, this maritime excursion will continue through the Beagle Channel to reach one of the most representative symbols of adventure travel: the Les Eclaireurs Lighthouse, which in French means ' Enlighteners ' or ' Scouts '. This lighthouse is also known, incorrectly, as the Lighthouse at the End of the World – a reference to Jules Verne's novel, which in turn refers to the San Juan Salvage. The Eclaireurs Lighthouse may not be the southernmost, but it is famous for its location and is the reference point for the channel. After visiting this famous landmark, return to Ushuaia. Navigating the Beagle Channel by boat to Isla de Lobos is one of the most traditional activities in Ushuaia and certainly one of the most beautiful.

The Tour to Tierra del Fuego National Park offers you the chance to explore unspoilt landscapes of Tierra del Fuego, the territory located on the extreme southern tip of Argentina, just 11km from Ushuaia city. This half-day tour will teach you about the local ecosystem, the geography of the area and its interesting history, while your soul is captivated by the beauty of the landscapes as you breathe in the pure Patagonian air. The Tierra del Fuego National Park Tour starts with a journey on Route 3 to the foot of Mount Susana, where the train station of the Southern Fuegian Railway, or Ferrocarril Austral Fueguino, is located. This railway was arduously built by the prisoners of Presidio del Fin del Mundo. You will have the chance to ride the End of the World Train. This activity is aimed at travellers who want to experience this historic railway, built to transport goods to the National Prison of Ushuaia, a place where the most dangerous prisoners and political detainees were sent. The service now runs for 8kms through the valleys of the National Park, places which can only be accessed by this train. Beyond the sad story that frames this rail service, the Southern Fuegian Railway is a unique experience with incredible views. After this experience, the tour continues through the valley of the Rio Pipo to Ensenada Bay. After a short hike through the trails of the park, immersing you in the ecosystem, you'll reach an observation point with spectacular views of Redonda and Estorbo Islands, the opposite coast of the Beagle Channel and the Snowy Mountains of Cadena Sampaio in Chile. The second stop on this tour in Ushuaia is Lapataia Bay, the geographic point that marks the end of National Route 3, an important highway known as the Panamericana, which starts in Buenos Aires. There the tour explores unforgettable roads surrounded by Magellanic forests and lakes surrounded by birds, marine mammals and fish. At the same time, learn about the history of the Yámanas – the ancient indigenous people of the area – while observing the stunning sight of the end of the Andes, on the frontier with Chile. Subsequently, the tour will take you to Lake Roca or “ Acigami ” (the original indigenous name). This lake of glacial origin, like most water bodies in the area, is characterized by its clear water and fine stone shore. At a small shelter, enjoy a hot drink before returning to Ushuaia.

to see the entire mountainous coast that surrounds the bay and its islands. Su Cara de Cão are three forts, of which the 16th-century and star-shaped Fortaleza São João is open to the public and is a real treat for tourists. The walking tour is free and is a great idea to admire the city skyline and at the same time escape the traditional tourist routes.

Lunch with no price: Stop for a quick lunch in one of the many restaurants per kilo in Rio, where you can satiate yourself without problems by spending a little.

Copacabana, Ipanema, Leblon, Botanical Garden: In the afternoon it is difficult to resist the beautiful sandy beach of Copacabana, which stretches for four kilometers along an entire side of the city center. A few steps from the beaches are Avenida Atlântica, Avenida Nossa Senhora de Copacabana, and the nearby smaller streets where you will find interesting centuries-old buildings, elegant hotels, restaurants and cafés. The undisputed monarch of the area, and of Rio's hotels, is the famous Copacabana Palace, built in 1920 and now protected as a national monument. Continuing beyond the Copacabana beaches, you will find those of Ipanema and Leblon, separated by the Jardim de Alá Canal, which drains the Lagoa Rodrigo de Freitas lagoon. On the promenade there are large hotels, cafés and restaurants. Lagoa Rodrigo de Freitas beach is lined with parks and sports clubs, and its waters are popular for regattas and other water sports. On the west side of the lagoon, the Botanical Garden has more than 5,000 species of plants from all over the world. In the late afternoon, if it is Carnival time, we advise you to admire the parade along the Sambodromo route.

Dinner not include: Since you are on the coast, choose a fine restaurant that offers a spectacular seafood menu.

within the eight meters of height of the base there is a chapel, where it is not uncommon to find weddings and baptisms that take place at that time. From the statue you will have an exceptional view of the beaches and Rio. The Corcovado Train takes tourists, through a rack railway and a 3.8 km route, from Rua do Cosme Velho to the statue at the top of the mountain, passing through a piece of the Tijuca National Park. The line operates from 8:30 to 18:30.

Tijuca National Park: In the afternoon take a walk in the rainforest in the Tijuca National Park, or stroll through the palm trees of the Botanical Garden. In fact, with its 33 square km that make it one of the largest urban forests in the world, the Tijuca National Park, located next to Rio de Janeiro (the only city in the world to have a rainforest within its urban borders) and therefore easily visited, it covers a large area of a predominantly mountainous landscape. Iguanas, howler monkeys, snakes and many different types of birds live a short distance from Rio's crowded neighborhoods. Visitors can hike to Rio's highest peak, Pico da Tijuca, to enjoy sweeping views of Guanabara bay and the city below.
